Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136 (a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election with traverse of claims 1-93 in Paper No. 6 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that an n-dimensional space curve is the same as a space curve and claims of Group III are a method of orienting a character stroke once removing the elements common to claim 1. This is not found persuasive because Group I does not require a space curve of n-dimensions like that of Group II nor does it include the method of orienting a stroke.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claims 30-31, 61-62 and 92-93 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in Paper No. 6.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-3, 32-34 and 63-65 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rice et al., U.S. Patent 6,268,871, 7/2001, 345/442.

As per independent claim 1, Rice discloses selecting a direction (FIG. 4 '30'; col. 4, ll. 33), generating a first vector (FIG. 4 '30a'), generating a second vector (col. 4, ll. 21 et seq.), the curve direction along a first endpoint to a second endpoint (FIG. 4; col. 3, ll. 33 et seq.), and is closest to the selected direction (col. 4, ll. 30 et seq.) and orienting the curve direction in accordance with the determined direction (col. 4, ll. 29 et seq.). Rice fails to disclose comparing the vectors, however it would have been obvious to one of skill in the art to compare the first and second vectors because Rice teaches implementing geometric continuity conditions to ensure the location of the generated second vector with that of underlying geometry (col. 4, ll. 21 et seq.).

As per dependent claims 2, 33 and 64, Rice discloses determining endpoints (col. 3, ll. 25 et seq.) and generating a second vector connecting the endpoints (col. 4, ll. 21 et seq.).

As per dependent claims 3, 34 and 65, Rice discloses determining endpoints (col. 3, ll. 25 et seq.) and generating two-second vectors connecting the endpoints (FIG. 4; col. 4) and having opposite directions (FIG. 4 '12a' & '12c').

As per independent claim 32, Rice discloses an apparatus (FIG. 14) for performing the method of claim 1. Therefore the rejection as applied to claim 1 is included herein.

As per independent claim 63, Rice discloses a program (FIG. 14 '214') for performing the method of claim 1. Therefore the rejection as applied to claim 1 is included herein.

Claims 4-29, 35-60 and 66-91 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
